

Due to the unusually long stretch of high temperatures and dry conditions in the region, the City of Raymond is urging all citizens to please use common sense and extra caution when celebrating our great country this Fourth of July.

Unfortunately, unlike some surrounding cities, the City of Raymond is bound by law and unable to create an emergency ban on fireworks on such short notice. This is something we will need to work on together to create changes for the future.

To ensure a safe holiday, please choose alternative ways to celebrate or be extra cautious and aware of your surroundings. Thank you for working together and a special thanks to the first responders working tirelessly to protect us.
